PUPPY THEFT

By BEN MIDDLETON
ben@tindlenews.co.uk

A CHARDSTOCK family has been left devastated after their 10-week-old puppy was stolen during a daylight raid.

Deanne Lord, of the Clay Steps area of the village, said Doodle, a tri-colour Parson Jack Russell, was left alone in the garden of the family home for no more than 10 minutes. When she went to check on him he had disappeared.

The incident took place on Wednesday, December 8th, at approximately 11am.

Speaking to Pulman's View, Deanne said: "We believe Doodle to have been stolen, I think it must have been an opportunist who has taken him.

"He was in the back garden of our house with our older dog and they were on their own for no more than 10 minutes. When I went to check on him our older dog came over to me and he was looking nervous, like he knew that something wasn't right.

"Doodle is only 10-weeks-old and we have only had him for two weeks, we really want to get him back for Christmas."

The puppy has been described as very distinctive by the owners. He has a tan and black face, white body with black markings and an undocked black tail with a white tip on the end.

Deanne added that she is putting up a reward for anyone who has information that leads to the return of Doodle.

She said: "We had another dog that died in September and Doodle was a replacement for him. At this time of year I think he has been stolen as a Christmas present for somebody or someone will be able to make some easy money by selling him on.

"There is a large reward offered for information leading to Doodle's return. Please help. I have two distraught children and we just want our pet home for Christmas."

Doodle has also been registered with www.doglost.co.uk, a website that aims to reunite lost or stolen dogs with their owners.

◆ DOODLE has been stolen from a property in Chardstock

A spokesman for the website said: "Doglost.co.uk is a national network of thousands of dog owners and volunteers keen to help reunite lost dogs with their owners. "We are here to assist in the search for missing dogs. We put the details straight onto our site and offer free advice and support."

Axminster police have confirmed that the puppy has been reported as missing and are urging anyone with information to get in touch.

Anyone with information about the theft can contact Deanne on 01460 221114. Alternatively contact Axminster police on 08452 777444.

Carpet firm wins 'green' water award

AXMINSTER Carpets has been rewarded for its latest green initiative.

The company has received a runners-up award in the Cleaner Water category at the first ever Environment Agency awards.

Back in 2009, Axminster Carpets installed a £2million water recycling plant. The plant converts waste water back to a level where it can be reused.

Josh Duffield, Axminster Carpets group managing director, said: "The commissioning of our water recycling plant was an ongoing part of our strategy to minimise the environmental impact of our yarn spinning and carpet manufacturing processes.

"It has helped us to radically reduce our outpout of water with contaminants and has allowed our water use to become much more efficient, as recognised by our position as runner up in the Cleaner Water category."

The award was presented at the Environment Agency's annual conference, Environment10, where energy secretary Chris Huhne, praised the calibre of all the entries by saying: "I'm thrilled to be able to present these awards to such worthy winners who are tackling climate change and improving the environment on the front line.

"All the finalists have shown real innovation in cutting carbon and improving sustainability."

Pupils learn news tricks

AXE Valley Community College was the venue for a news day challenge on Tuesday last.

Youngsters from primary schools at Kilmington, Colyton, Axminster, All Saints and Membury took part in the event.

A spokesman for the college said: "The aim of the day was to produce a newspaper about life at Axe Valley Community College. In the morning the children learned interview techniques and had a mock press interview session where they were able to use these skills to interview the headteacher and a group of students.

"They then used their notes and photos to compile their newspapers and returned to their schools armed with numerous useful enterprising and creative skills."

Festive bingo

A CHRISTMAS bingo event is set to take place at the Guildhall, Axminster, on Friday, December 17th.

The event has been organised by the Karizma Majorettes and eyes down begins at 8pm.

The organisers say everyone is welcome to attend.

New parish reverend prepares to take on a church in the country

By ANDERS LARSSON
anders@indlenews.co.uk

AXMINSTER'S new parish priest has not arrived in town to re-invent the wheel, but to build on things already in place.

The licensing of Reverend John Streeting took place on Monday, December 6th, witnessed by a near capacity congregation in the Minster.

The service was led by Reverend Michael Langrish, Bishop of Exeter, and concluded with the cutting of a cake to confirm and celebrate the appointment of Reverend Streeting.

The new rector grew up in Chingford, London, and started his working life as a music teacher — working in London and Hereford.

That career spanned 15 years and came to an end when John enrolled at theological college at St Stephen's House, Oxford.

There had always been a church connection as he became a choir boy at an early age and was a regular churchgoer throughout.

John was ordained in 1992 and first served in Upminster before transferring to Chelsea and then the Isle of Sheppey.

He and his wife have friends in Devon and really like the county, so he was delighted to find a post here.

But he admits he knew very little about Axminster despite having spent many holidays in nearby Lyme Regis.

"I knew about the carpets but apart from that, nothing," he said.

His interest in the town dramatically increased, though, when The Bishop of Crediton, aka Bishop Bob, mentioned the vacancy here.

John subsequently applied and was told he'd got the job in July following interview.

"It was a panel of 16 people, it was a little daunting," he said.

◆ REVEREND Streeting and his wife, Elizabeth

When asked if he has any particular plans or initiatives to implement, he said: "I don't think I have been sent here to re-invent the wheel, but to build on what is already here."

He is keen for the six churches in the ministry to continue to work closely together and make the churches as accessible as possible to the whole community.

As good examples of wider accessibility he mentions local schools singing carols in church, the sale of Christmas cards and the summer music programme in the Minster.

Reverend Streeting is married to Elizabeth and they have six children — four boys and two girls — ranging in age from 15-32.

He concluded by saying: "We would like to thank everyone for a wonderful welcome and we both feel we will be very happy in the community."

Police close

POLICE have decided to close the front offices at stations in Axminster, Seaton, Ottery and Sidmouth — but the Honiton office will remain open.

Across the force area, Devon and Cornwall Police will retain 23 front offices and close 34.

Inspector Antonia Weeks announced the decision on Monday afternoon and said the closures will probably come into effect in April next year and save the force more than £5million over four years.

Police officers will still be based at the affected stations, but there will be no front offices for general enquiries, lost property and such.

Map success

AN east Devon pre-school has scored a highly commended in a map competition as part of the Best Kept Village in Devon award.

Dunkeswell Pre-school entered the competition even though it was designed for primary school pupils.

The map produced by the youngsters at Dunkeswell was described as "remarkable" by the competition judges. A £20 book token was awarded to the pre-school.

Hunt change

AXE Vale Hunt has confirmed its Boxing Day Meet.

They will be out hunting on Monday, December 27th.

Participants will gather at The Hook and Parrot Inn, Seaton, and Ross Willmington, joint master, said: "This is because traditionally we never meet on a Sunday.

"We look forward to seeing a large crowd from the town as in previous years and thank the local police for their support with traffic control."

EDDC rejects controversial plans for knacker's yard bid

By BEN MIDDLETON
ben@indlenews.co.uk

PLANS to return a knacker's yard near Chardstock back to its former glory have been rejected by East Devon District Council (EDDC).

As previously reported in Pulman's View, Robert Blackburn, of Chard, had wanted to resume the business at the site at Hook. The operation is currently being leased from Mr Blackburn by Fromevale Animal Products Ltd of Bridgwater, Somerset.

Many residents living close to the site, and parish councillors, had aired their concerns to the district council.

Concerns included increased traffic to and from the knacker's yard, nuisance smells and potential pollution of the nearby River Kit.

A spokesman for EDDC said the application had been refused on a number of grounds.

The spokesman said: "The evidence provided does not appear to support the range of uses set out in the application. When the rendering activity was carried out there were significant problems of nuisance smells and if these uses had been carried out in the last 10 years the impact on adjacent residents would have been similar and would undoubtedly have been reported.

"There does, however, seem to be evidence that a small scale operation was carried out on the site involving the transportation and collection of fallen stock, the cutting of carcasses and the processing of meat by-products for pet food. No evidence is provided as to the scale or frequency of these activities. Since May 2009 there have been no licences for the site to operate as a collection centre. Prior to that the only direct evidence of use of the site dates back to August 2008 in the form of Fromevale collection notes."

However, the issue may not be over yet as Mr Blackburn looks set to submit an application to build houses at the former knacker's yard.

As reported in last week's Pulman's View from Axminster, Lyndon Brett, the agent working for Mr Blackburn, drafted a letter to the district council following a dispute with Fromevale.

In the letter he says: "My clients have a different agenda to Fromevale, as my clients will, with the benefit of the certificate of lawfulness, then seek to secure an alternative use for the site and premises - for residential development.

"Mr and Mrs Blackburn are looking to work with EDDC to arrive at a mutually acceptable solution for the local authority, the parish council, residents and themselves."

Christmas spirit truly alive says town mayor

OTTERY mayor Glyn Dobson says the Christmas spirit is "truly alive" in the town.

The mayor has also praised everyone involved with the Christmas lights fundraising effort.

The town council, the chamber of commerce, shops and businesses raised sufficient funds for this year's Christmas Lights plus a surplus towards next year's lights.

Mayor Dobson said: "We had a fantastic response to the Christmas lights appeal and we would like to thank everyone who donated money — the town looks great."

"The response from local traders has been marvellous and goes to show the commitment to making it a place that people want to visit and shop."

"The Christmas lights are always excellent and this year's event was a great success."

"The Christmas spirit is truly alive in Ottery St Mary and I would encourage everyone to come and enjoy the shops, support your local traders and enjoy the atmosphere created by the festive season."

"On behalf of all the councillors I would like to wish everyone a very merry Christmas and happy new year."

NHS urges residents to stay in the warm

NHS Devon is urging people to stay warm this winter.

With the current cold snap set to continue for at least the next few days the health authority is asking people to stay indoors unless it is vital to venture outside.

A spokesman for NHS Devon said: "With winter setting in early this year NHS Devon is urging people to take care of themselves, elderly relatives and neighbours to avoid serious illness."

"Temperatures have already plummeted to nearly -10C in the county and NHS Devon is advising people to be prepared for more cold weather.

"According to the chief medical officer around 400 deaths could potentially be avoided in the winter months."

"During winter, when demand on the NHS is highest, people are asked to choose well to make sure they get the right service for their needs."

Dr Virginia Pearson, NHS Devon's director of public health, said: "If it is not possible to keep the whole house warm, try to keep one main room and bedroom warm and stay there unless you have to go outside, however, do try to stay active."

"The best way to stay warm is to wear several small layers of clothing rather than a few thick heavy clothing items."

"There is a greater risk of hypothermia in temperatures below 10 degrees so it is vital to be aware of the temperature and to keep warm at all times."

"When it starts to get really cold, particularly if you live on your own and are over 65, try to arrange for someone to call to your house or telephone at least once a day."

Farmers warned after country raids

POLICE across east Devon are urging farmers to be alert following a spate of thefts in the area.

A number of properties across the county have been raided by thieves and a number of items have been stolen.

The stolen items include six Binatone Terrain 650 two-way radios, two Stihl chainsaws and a Husqvarna chainsaw was also taken.

Anyone with information about any of these items is asked to call police on 08452 777444.

♦ EAST Devon Beekeepers has moved its apiary from its old home in Hawkchurch to a new home near Kilmington at the weekend. Some of the beekeepers are pictured around the beehives in their new home

New bee site is hive of activity

MEMBERSHIP REACHES ALL-TIME HIGH

By ANDERS LARSSON
anders@tindlenews.co.uk

A CLUB for beekeepers is a hive of activity now membership has reached an all-time high — and has also moved headquarters.

The club's history dates back to before the Second World War and it was long known as Uplyme and District Beekeepers.

These days it is known as East Devon Beekeepers, though, and has never been busier.

Chairman Colin Sherwood explained that the name change came about because membership is mainly spread across east Devon plus nearby parts of Somerset and Dorset.

Members got together on Saturday, December 11th to move the club apiary from its old home near Hawkchurch to a new base near Kilmington.

Mr Sherwood said: "With increasing concern for the natural environment, perhaps enhanced just a smidgeon by the thought of making your own honey, club membership is now at an all-time high of 150.

"The primary role of the apiary is to train new beekeepers and provide hands-on experience to new and existing members."

Eight colonies were thus on the move to a new site which will enable up to 40 beekeepers at a time to develop their skills, as well as socialising amongst their bee pals.

The new site was buzzing with activity as some club members were installing the bees, others were busy cleaning and stock-taking, and some concentrated on handing out refreshments.

The club's next beginners' course starts on January 17th.

Details are available on the club's website at eastdevonbees.org.uk or from Richard Simpson on 01297 551070.

Playgroup gets new carpet

AN Axminster playgroup has got a shiny new carpet.

Rainbow Under Fives' Playgroup wrote to Axminster Carpets and had a positive and generous response.

A carpet was delivered to the group's base on the Axminster Primary School campus, replacing one that had seen better days.

Playgroup manager Clare Male said: "A big thank you to Axminster Carpets from all of us."

70 get messy at church

MORE than 70 people got together for an indoor version of Messy Church in Seaton.

Having run three open air events during the summer, Christians from various churches invited families to an evening of crafts, music, drama, and food at Seaton Methodist Church last month.

Reverend Simon d'Albertanson said: "Among the innovative craft activities offered by Marian Webb and her team were beautiful elephants of various sizes, crafted from milk cartons.

"Biscuits decorated with icing and chocolate drops were also a big hit with the children.

"The theme for the evening was roads and journeys and later everyone gathered together for an interactive drama of the parable of the good Samaritan including a pantomime donkey.

"It was an amazing first event, it was lovely to work together and to see everyone having fun."

VILLAGE PRIMARY MARKED WELL BY OFSTED

Ofsted inspectors visited Hawkchurch Primary School and judged 28 separate performance aspects.

Inspectors use a four-step scale — Grade 1 (outstanding), Grade 2 (good), Grade 3 (satisfactory) and Grade 4 (inadequate).

No less than 22 of the aspects judged were deemed good, the remaining six being deemed outstanding.

A previous inspection in January 2008 resulted in a mix of Grades 2 and 3.

Commenting on the positive report from inspectors, headteacher Cliff Seabrook said: "We are very pleased with the report which supports our views that everyone at the school works very hard to ensure that the children have an interesting and stimulating start to their school lives and this enables all children to succeed in a very happy environment."

Lead inspector Alexander Baxter commented: "The pupils' above average attainments and good achievement represent significant improvement since the previous inspection and continue the picture evident over the past four years.

"The good curriculum is enriched by a good range of extra-curricular activity and the excellent care, guidance and support and good provision provided by the teachers and their assistants is underpinned by their very good knowledge of the needs of individual pupils."

In the editor's shoes

Written by editorial manager
KATE WILLIAMS

Christmas is almost here!

I SEEM to have blinked and suddenly Christmas is just around the corner. By the time this is printed on Tuesday it'll be 11 days until the big day.

I'm confused about where the last 12 months has disappeared to. I'm usually very good about Christmas, normally picking up my first few presents around August time, then the rest is usually done by now. But not this year.

2010 seems to have flown by for me. Admittedly it was only November 2009 when My Lovely Farmer popped the question and we were married and honeymooned by July! So that's clearly where half of the year went.

And as for the past six months, the paper has grown and we have taken on more work in our little Axminster office.

I have to give some praise up for my tiny editorial team. There is only three-and-half (one of which is me) of us and everyone does such a grand job.

My two reporters whose names you will recognise from their bylines in the paper — Anders Larsson and Ben Middleton — have a mammoth task every week covering a very wide area.

Most readers probably don't realise that these two journalists source and write stories for nine local papers — five in east Devon, three in south Somerset and Pulman's Weekly News which now covers both areas.

On top of that, we have more recently taken on View from the Blackdown Hills, a monthly community newspaper, bringing the number up to 10.

The task each week is not an easy one, but my pair of roving reporters always deliver and they do it to very high standards. I'm very lucky to have two such dedicated professionals at my side.

I suppose I'd better buy them both a large Christmas drink after that little speech.

Mind you, whilst I'm on the subject, the whole of our team based at Axminster should get a pat on the back. Being such a small firm, it means that everyone is expected to pitch in and, therefore, work arguably harder than in some larger companies. I'm not buying them all a drink though.

Back to Christmas and my lack of organisational skills this year. I know it always happens the same way every year — that the big day seems a long way away, then suddenly it creeps up on you and you realise you've actually only got a couple of weeks (or less now).

But this time it's hit me hard. I blame work, of course. And, up until not very long ago, I had bought no presents. I haven't had the time to go out on shopping expeditions to Exeter or Taunton or Plymouth, so I hit the internet.

I bought three-quarters of my Christmas presents in one week online which was hotly followed by national news that internet Christmas shopping had taken a hike this year. That was me!

It has its pros and cons, of course, but buying online has been my saving grace this year. I think I've only visited a couple of actual shops for presents — Spotty Chicken and the new Violet Field in Axminster have done me proud, as has Colyton Garden Shop which also stocks very nice gifts. And I feel like I pay a weekly visit to the lady in Axminster's fabric shop for bits and pieces for some homemade goodies.

Well at least I am a little more on the right track now. Our home and office are both very festive, now all is left is to wrap gifts and prepare food... oh but first the office Christmas party this week (where I'm going to have to buy all those drinks).

TV auction Graham opens recycling shop

GRAHAM Barton, of Homes Under the Hammer Fame, officially opened a new Axminster business.

Mr Barton was in the town on Saturday, December 4th to open The Axminster Recycling Centre —

Waste Not — in Chard Street.

The business is owned by Gillian Dean and trades in furniture.

Gillian is hoping the shop will bring shoppers to the town who are looking for good quality, recycled items to furnish their homes.

She said that she is grateful to estate agents Martin Diplock and landlord Axminster Tool Centre for help in finding and securing the property.

She also thanked everyone who turned up for the grand opening and looks forward to seeing them again.

GRANTS from the Monument Trust and Heritage Lottery Fund have enabled Lyme Regis Museum to create two new posts in a quest to develop its community involvement and education programmes.

The Heritage Lottery Fund has enabled the museum to embark on a major maritime heritage project based on the lerret, an historic Dorset fishing vessel.

This will take place during 2011 and will be led by well-known local boat builder Gail McGarva, who has joined the museum team.

Gail will be organising a major oral history project and series of community events in Lyme and along the Dorset coast.

Links with schools and the community will also be developed by the appointment of the museum's first ever learning and outreach officer, Chris Andrew.

A museum spokesperson said: "Chris, who is already well-known to museum visitors and fossil walkers for his infectious enthusiasm for natural history, beat a very strong field of candidates to secure this post.

New posts for museum

"He will be sharing his knowledge and enthusiasm by bringing more schools into the museum and by going out to deliver talks and workshops in schools and community organisations."

There is also a third new staff member at the museum.

Lorraine Chamen is taking over as visitor services and administration manager.

The spokesperson added: "The museum's current manager, Alix Fairley, who has done a huge amount for the museum over the past year, will be staying on as a volunteer. Aside from the arrival of the new staff, the museum continues to depend on its team of dedicated volunteers who welcome visitors, give talks, fundraise and carry out research."

Now, that's good service

EDITOR — On November 29th my husband, who had been shopping in Honiton most of the morning, went to The Taste of Bengal Indian restaurant to collect a takeaway curry for our lunch, little realising that I had been unable to order it as, apparently, they are closed Monday lunchtimes.

On my husband's arrival at the restaurant he said he had come to collect our order only to be informed by the owner Mr Majizur Rahman that they were closed.

However, just as my husband was about to leave Mr Rahman asked him to wait.

He proceeded to phone his chef who duly appeared and took our order.

He said if my husband cared to return in 15 to 20 minute when our meal would be ready and it was.

I feel this extraordinary act of kindness justifies me informing you of the outstanding politeness and service shown to my husband when this restaurant was officially closed.

I hope this will be worthy of a mention in your newspaper.

Parking restrictions sure to be the final nail for local shops

EDITOR — Devon County Council is riding roughshod over local democracy, public and traders' views by imposing its parking meters without consultation on no less than 28 coastal and market towns in Devon including Honiton and others in east Devon.

A pure money making exercise, a stealth tax on shoppers, cynical and undemocratic.

In the same way speed cameras have little to do with road safety, pay and display meters have little to do with traffic control.

It's all about revenue stream partly to fund salaries and pensions for our so called obedient (civil) servants.

The leader of Devon County Council is John Hart.

Councillor Hart, if you and your inner council cabinet are on a mission to change the face of shopping in Devon by closing down high street shops, forcing shoppers to drive to out of town shopping centres and supermarkets — who never charge for parking because they know it is a disincentive to shop — then you are doing an amazing job.

Is this an example of Mr Cameron and the coalition's Big Society — lets empower Local Communities?

Many small businesses in our small coastal and market towns are teetering on the edge — this may push many of them over.

This pay and display move should be resisted strenuously.

Better still divert the reported £2,000 cost of each parking meter to pay for pay on exit machines at council car parks so that shoppers can pay for time used rather than having their shopping experience spoilt by worrying about getting a fixed penalty ticket if they decide to stop to make an unexpected purchase.

Letters of objection should go to: The County Solicitor, County Hall, Exeter, EX2 4QD, with copy to your MP at The House of Commons, London SW1.

Looking to find family

EDITOR — I am trying to find the family of Eric Roy L. Ericson and Winifred Annie Ericson (nee Cull).

They were married in Surrey in 1937 and they both died in Honiton in 1976.

Winifred was the daughter of Mary Catherine Cull (nee Jones) and was my grandmother's sister.

I would be grateful for any information.

Let's be real on stag death

EDITOR — We've heard from the hunters and the fluffy set, now let's be realistic.

How many people who are outraged by a stag being killed have eaten venison at some time?

Or even considered that farm animals for consumption are killed in the prime of life also.

How many people also display animal trophies?

I am talking about leather bags, shoes, no different from a stag's head on the wall, I think.

Quick to criticise others but how many people own a lethal weapon capable of leaving an animal maimed and suffering for days — yes, a car.

So, if the death of one stag concerns you, you'd better leave your chance to be the next killer on the driveway.

Disruption to bird life as the winter begins

NOT surprisingly, in the light of the icy early winter blast, bird life has been severely disrupted. Small flocks of lapwings were seen flying out to sea, presumably seeking warmer climes, while I noted a single lapwing desperately trying to find food in the frosted field by my office.

Snipe and woodcock are now appearing in good numbers, driven west to escape the snow and ice in the north and east. A spoonbill was also seen on the Axe estuary, as well as four Mediterranean gulls, while a flock of over 30 of those lovely waders, golden plovers, was seen over Musbury and Boshill.

As I write, the ground is softening under brilliant sunshine and the hordes of blackbirds, the odd fieldfare and redwing, have deserted the windfall apples for their more traditional sources of food. Providing fresh, unfrozen water for the wild birds has been a challenge, and with the bird bath frozen solid, I have resorted to providing metal pans which are constantly refilled.

I see that Steve Waite who has edited the bird section of the Axe Estuary bi-monthly email newsletter, for the past two years is having to give up the task, which he has performed so brilliantly, due to other commitments. David Walters will continue with the newsletter but as he can't get out and about as much as he used to do, he will be relying to some extent on notes and pictures sent to him. His email is davidwalters@eclipse.co.uk.

So if you see any interesting, unusual or even amusing sightings do please contact David. Photos are very welcome and all items published will be acknowledged.

In 1961 the Dorset Naturalists' Trust was formed with just 361 members and it was a year before it managed to lease its first reserve. Eventually it was to become the Dorset Wildlife Trust (DWT), now one of the leading wildlife conservation trusts in Britain. Today, the DWT is supported by 3.5 per cent of the county's population and manages 42 sites, mainly owned by the trust and representing over 1300 hectares of wildlife havens.

Next year there will be celebrations and special events to recognise its half a century ago of existence and to mark the occasion the DWT is issuing a £50 challenge! They are asking anyone who has an interest in wild life to raise £50 during 2011 to ensure that the work of protecting the natural environment can continue for a further 50 years.

The fund is needed to provide emergency and long term financial support for land purchase, development of educational facilities, nature reserve management and for nature restoration projects.

Times are straitened but the work undertaken by the Dorset Wildlife Trust is essential to protect nature in this extraordinarily diverse part of England. How one raises the £50 is to be left to individuals, though the simplest answer is, of course, a straight forward donation. Further news on the £50 challenge in due course.

Such is the strength and popularity of the DWT that a local Bridport group has outgrown its regular meeting place. The increasing numbers attending the monthly evening meetings of the West Dorset Group of the DWT means that they can no longer be accommodated in the Friends' Meeting House and so, from the beginning the New Year, the monthly Friday lectures will take place at the Bridport United Church Hall, just off East Street.

The first lecture will be an illustrated talk by Bob Gibbons called "The most flowery places in the world" on Friday, January 7th at 7.30pm. Non-members are welcome and further info is available from Monty Crook on 01308 423442.

Lions hand out Christmas gifts

SEATON and District Lions Club has handed out donations worth more than £500 to three local causes.

The donations were made at a recent club meeting and the money was raised during various lions fund raising initiatives.

Club president Clive Millman handed over cheques to Sharon Mills and Fiona Young of Rupert's Playgroup, Daniel Knapp of the Axe Explorer Unit, who will be representing Scouting in Devon at the World Scout Jamboree in Sweden next year, and John Barrington-Rowell on behalf of the Visually Impaired.

Steph's design is web winner

Stephanie Hurn, 24, who lives at Knowles Close, entered a competition to mark the 10th birthday of the magazine Learning Disability Today.

Speaking to Pulman's View, Stephanie said: "I like drawing and wanted to put forward what a lot of adults with learning disability want from their life, as they are no different to anyone else."

Knowles Close is run by Magna Housing Association and provides supported housing for people with learning disabilities.

Stephanie added that she entered the competition after Julie Harvey, of Magna Housing, talked about it at a residents' meeting at the home.

Julie said: "Stephanie feels that people with disabilities, whatever they are, are not given the same chance as others and she has had to struggle to get where she is with her own flat and part-time job.

"She has achieved this with support from us as an organisation. She feels lots of others, including people she knows, are not so lucky or able to have the support to tell people what they want."

Although Stephanie didn't win the competition her picture was chosen to be displayed on the magazine website.

Special music merit awarded

A MUSIC service bagged a hat-trick of gongs at an awards ceremony in London, organised by the National Music Council.

Devon's Music Service's delegation consisted of Ken Parr (head of service) along with Fiona Pendreigh, Brian Moore and a quartet from Devon Youth Jazz Orchestra (DYJO), which played as part of the ceremony.

Devon was awarded a Diploma of Special Merit in recognition of its outstanding commitment to jazz education, a Major Trophy for its work across the service plus a Creative Music Diploma in recognition of its commitment to creative music-making and composition.

Speaking after the ceremony, Mr Parr said: "This surprise award was great news, and recognition that we are consistently supporting high quality education across a range of disciplines.

"The DYJO players gave a superb performance and created quite a stir amongst the delegates who were impressed by their abilities, age and the fact that county ensembles only get to rehearse once a month on average.

"I'd like to say a big thank you to everyone involved in the service for their contributions to Devon once again receiving these national accolades."

View from the churches

With Nigel
Speller

CHURCH of England General Synod members have now returned to the parishes from its first session.

This included agreeing the method of consulting with dioceses, deaneries, and parishes about the proposals for women Bishops, which will include voting by each of those bodies.

The General Synod also agreed proposals known as the Anglican Covenant which is a means of consultation between world wide churches before contemplating controversial reforms, and so helping to keep together the 38 Anglican church provinces worldwide.

Ian Kirby of the United Reformed Church reminds us that our churches are now into the season of Advent, a time of preparation for Christmas. The churches of Axminster will be holding seasonal carol services in the run up to Christmas.

Elsewhere in Devon churches are preparing for the Christmas festival, and as a preliminary at Colyton the local Methodist Church has been the venue for the evening office of compline at 7.30pm for the first three Wednesdays in December. When it comes to New Year at 12noon on Saturday, January 1st 2011 there will be combined prayers in St Andrews Church.

Everywhere across east Devon the usual pattern of Christmas services will unfold. As a preliminary in many churches christingle services will be held in the run up to Christmas; in which the work of the Children's Society is remembered with the help of the familiar christingles, and additionally in our area toys are collected for delivery to the North Devon Children's Hospice.

At Colyton Church there will be special carol services for Colyton Grammar School, the primary school and the pre-school group.

Members of Honiton Baptist Church are rejoicing in a grant from Devon County Council for improved heating, providing a warm welcome for all.

Club thanks all its busy helpers

YEARS ago the Yarcombe Amenities Club was formed by an unlikely alliance consisting of David Sutton, Chris Doble, Andrew Chick, Roy Clarke (from Lower Pithayne), Brian Phillips and Glenn Blackler.

They decided that most of Yarcombe activities were run for, or by the Church, or older people for their own organisations, and they wanted to prove that the younger elements were able to do something for the village.

Who can remember the posh dances, the socials and the spooky children's Hallowe'en parties?

They also organised a sports afternoon on Flower Show day, to allow the children to let off steam whilst their parents viewed the exhibits.

In 1978 Trish Samways thought it might be a good idea to do something for the very old senior citizens.

The children were well catered for by their own committee and it was decided to do something for the other end of the scale, who had all had their turn doing things for the children and the village.

The first senior citizens dinner was enjoyed by around 36 pensioners and the cooking and the service was provided by members of the Yarcombe Amenities Club committee at that time and became an annual event.

Andrew Chick and Christine Parris have been there since the commencement with our David Meyrick waiting at table and several other people have been helping for more years than they can remember.

Gradually the original members became old enough to sit down and enjoy the meal themselves and organisers are now Cindy and Shaun Vining and Clifford and Marian Every and their families and friends.

They have laid up for over 100 people in the last few years and the standard of cooking, preparing, serving and clearing away has never wavered and I am sure that everybody would like to congratulate them and thank them for doing their part for the village.

Everybody leaves the hall well fed, and watered.

The sending of invitations can be quite difficult as it is essential to know who is eligible to attend but we cannot allow mere youngsters to elbow in.

It is also important that we are aware of names which have to be removed for whatever reason.

There is a fine line between those eagerly awaiting the 'magic age' and those who are not prepared to believe that they are old enough.

Pat Bazley has kindly been answering the telephone and taking the numbers from time immemorial and this year has asked to be relieved of this duty as she is often engaged elsewhere.

She has thoroughly enjoyed the experience as people love to chat and catch up with news, and Marie Jones has kindly agreed to take this task on.

The invitations must therefore be amended accordingly.

Obviously the meal has to be paid for and this year the bingo is the main fundraiser but please look out for further events to boost the funds for future years.

Those who kindly hand in donations at the meal are thanked for their kind thoughts, all contributions helping towards the ever increasing costs.

The committee would like to thank the Yarcombe Charity Fund who make a donation towards the cost of the turkeys and to all those supporting the venture during the year.

The meal is always held on the first Sunday in December as the helpers are all busy people who have a very busy December in front of them.

They look forward to seeing everybody next year and send seasons greetings to everyone.

New home for dancers

HONITON Folk Dance Club have really settled into its new home at Offwell Village Hall.

After a great opening evening, the other nights have all gone just as well.

For its Hallowe'en night the stage was dressed for a spooky evening.

The club is forging links with the local community and its resident band — the Amycrofters — played for the Offwell Bonfire night and firework display.

Since then the Amycrofters, together with Caller, Wendy Hoare, have visited Offwell Primary School. The classes enjoyed both the dancing, and the music of the Amycrofters.

Since moving to Offwell the club has attracted many new members from the surrounding area. Now the Folk Dance Club is looking forward to the Christmas Party Dance on December 20th.

Again the stage will be dressed for the event. Music will be provided by the Amycrofters, with calling by Simon Maplesden.

Christmas fancy dress is optional. There will be a bring and share supper. Come and experience a night to remember.

Club nights are every Monday at 8pm in Offwell Village Hall.

Do take the opportunity to meet new friends and have a lot of fun with a little exercise.

To find out more call Andrew or June on 01404 46451 or visit www.amycrofters.co.uk.

◆ A GROUP of visitors enjoy some drinks and a look around the premises at the HALFF evening event

Festive drinks evening goes down a treat

A CHRISTMAS drinks evening organised by Axminster-based charity Health and Local Food for Families (HALFF) was well attended despite inclement weather.

Those attending the event on Wednesday, December 1st could have a look around the charity's South Street premises, mingle, enjoy refreshments and see what progress has been made since the shop and information centre opened in April.

HALFF aims to improve the health of families in east Devon, south

Somerset and west Dorset by providing information and education on healthy eating in various ways, including cookery and tasting sessions.

HALFF project co-ordinator Megan Saunders said a few people couldn't make the evening because of the weather.

But more than 40 people made it and Megan described the event as "very successful and festive".

Those interested in finding out more about HALFF can pop into the shop or visit the website at www.halff.org.uk.

FILM

THERE'S action and adventure ahoj in the third book of CS Lewis's enchanting Narnia series, published back in the 1950s.

Following on from the daring escapades of Prince Caspian, The Voyage of the Dawn Treader sets sail without the two eldest Pevensie children, Peter and Susan, and press-gangs some fresh talent to carry the series into the choppy waters of the fourth book, The Silver Chair.

Director Michael Apted bows down to the current fad of 3D format but this version of the film barely takes advantage of the eye-popping possibilities.

Most of the cast return with the notable absence of Eddie Izzard, replaced by Simon Pegg, as the voice of sword-wielding mouse, Reepicheep.

The film opens with Peter away at university and Susan in America, consigning Lucy and Edmund to a miserable stay with stuffy cousin, Eustace Scrubb.

During a fight between Edmund and Eustace, a painting in the guest bedroom magically transports all three children to Narnia and on to the titular vessel captained by Drinian.

Eustace is aghast but Lucy and Edmund settle in quickly as Narnian royalty, reuniting with King Caspian and Reepicheep aboard The Dawn Treader.

It transpires that Caspian is on a quest to locate the swords of seven lost noblemen and the Pevensie children pledge their support.

Production design is impressive and the script introduces two monsters for the special effects-heavy finale that should delight younger audiences.

THEATRE REVIEW

Pub comedy: festive, funny and fantastic

THE TURKEY RETURNS IE Theatre Comedy Players

I WENT to watch Steve Black's Christmas comedy play on Sunday, December 5th at The Axminster Inn.

I arrived wondering how on earth a play could be staged in a pub. What about the noise? How much atmosphere could be created? I needn't have worried.

From the moment I walked into the performance area I knew it could work. Christmas decorations were up, a tree lit beautifully on the make-shift acting area, subtle yet warming lighting and a set that was literally someone's front room.

Carols were playing quietly in the background, the audience seated and chatting in a relaxed manner all anticipating the evening ahead.

Suddenly, the lights came up, the cast entered and the play began. From the fourth line it became clear to all of us that this was going to be a fun and funny evening.

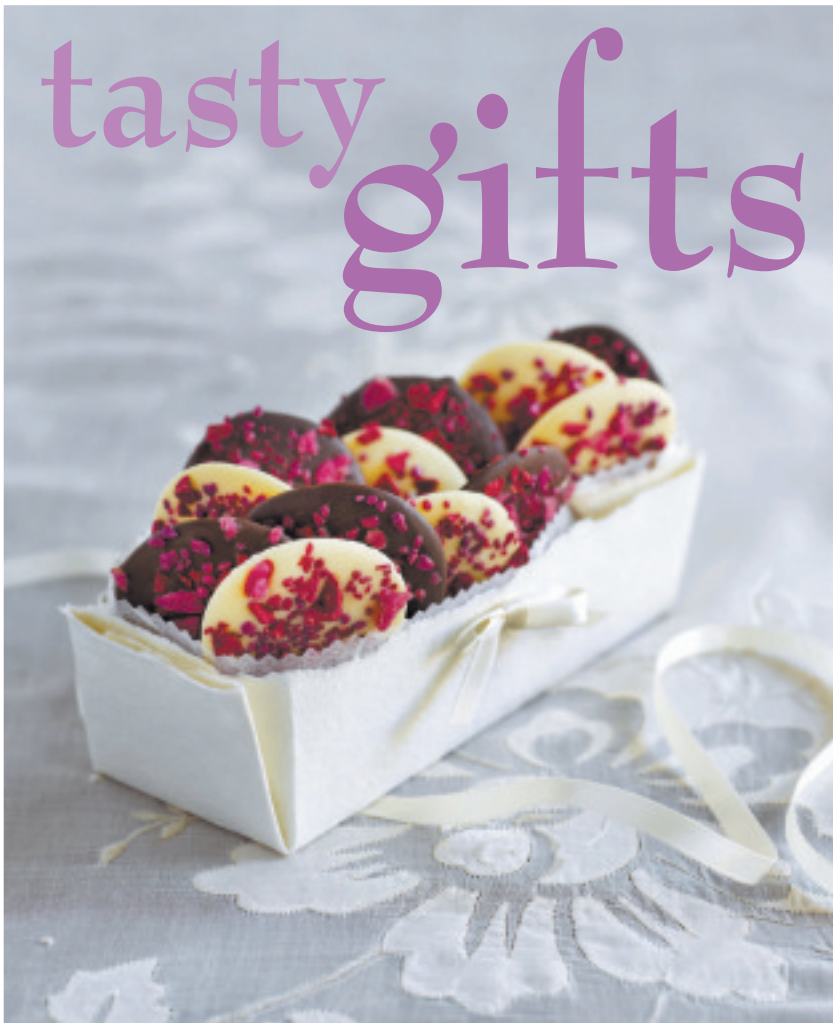

Yes, it's true that Black's choice of language and subject matter are — shall we say — not for the faint-hearted, but there is a realism in it all.

The cast was fantastic. We laughed a lot throughout the whole play. It was a simplistic plot with real drama and sadness mixed in with typical family humour. I loved every second of it. Great acting, great dialogue, great characters and, it should be pointed out, a great hot buffet during the interval.

There is another performance at the Axminster Inn on Sunday, December 19th starting at 7.45pm and also at the King's Arms, Seaton, on Monday, December 20th starting at 7pm.

The Seaton shows include a two-course Christmas dinner. I can't think of a better way to kick the festive season off than to spend an evening with IE Theatre Comedy Players.

Michael Hawsworth

WHILE most families have a few homemade presents hidden away they'd rather forget about, there are still some gifts which are safe to make, and give, without fear of future resentment: edible ones.

As Annie Rigg, author of Gifts From the Kitchen, explains, while homemade gifts demonstrate love, originality and creativity, "foodie gifts double those magic ingredients".

"What could be more wonderful than receiving a jar of chutney or a bottle of fresh raspberry cordial, all packaged beautifully with a hand written label?" asks Rigg.

So the next time you head to the organic section of the supermarket looking for eco-friendly jam, with a frilly retro cloth cap to improve your mood in the morning, stop and think, 'Could I make that?' And, if so, you might be ready to get creative in the kitchen this Christmas.

Here are some of Rigg's fabulous ideas...

Raspberry and rose chocolate wafers (Makes about 24 wafers)

150g good quality dark chocolate (72% cocoa solids)
150g good quality white chocolate
3-4tbsp freeze-dried raspberry crisps (approx 25g)
3-4tbsp crystallized rose petals
3-4tbsp pink sugared rose chips or sugar sprinkles

Line two large baking sheets with non-stick baking parchment.

Break the dark and white chocolate into pieces and melt separately in heatproof bowls set over pans of barely simmering water. Stir until smooth, remove from the heat and cool slightly.

Spoon heaped teaspoonfuls of melted chocolate on to the prepared baking sheets, spreading the chocolate into discs with the back of the spoon. Scatter with the raspberry crisps, rose petals and rose chips or sugar sprinkles.

Set aside to cool and harden completely before removing from the parchment with a palette knife.

Stored in an airtight container, these will keep for four to five days.

Cashew and almond barfi (Makes 20-24 pieces)

200g unsalted cashews
200g ground almonds
125g caster sugar
397g can of condensed milk
75ml full fat milk
1tsp ground cardamom
1tsp rosewater
2tbsp clarified butter or ghee

6 sheets of edible silver leaf

Line a 20cm square baking tin with lightly oiled baking parchment. Tip the cashews into a food processor and blend until finely ground. Add the ground almonds and pulse for a further 30 seconds. Mix with the caster sugar, condensed milk, full-fat milk, ground cardamom and rosewater.

Heat the clarified butter or ghee in a large non-stick frying pan and add the nut mixture. Stir constantly over a low heat for about 10-15 minutes, until the mixture thickens and comes away from the pan smoothly in a thick mass. It should be the consistency of a loose bread dough or choux pastry.

Tip the mixture into the prepared tin and spread level with either a palette knife or a rubber spatula. Leave to cool for 10 minutes.

Very carefully peel one sheet of silver leaf at a time from the book and lay on the surface of the barfi to completely cover it. Leave to set completely, then cut into diamonds with a sharp knife or a pizza wheel.

Package in a single layer in a shallow box lined with waxed or non-stick baking parchment.

Stored in an airtight container, these will keep for up to one week.

Chocolate and hazelnut spread (Makes 1 X 450g Jar)

75g blanched hazelnuts
100g dark chocolate (72% cocoa solids), chopped
100ml condensed milk
1-2tbsp hazelnut oil
pinch of salt
3-4tbsp hot water

Preheat the oven to 180C/gas mark 4. Tip the hazelnuts on to a baking sheet and toast in the preheated oven for 5-7 minutes, until pale golden. Remove the nuts from the oven and cool slightly. Tip the warm hazelnuts into a food processor and chop until they become an almost smooth paste.

Gently melt the chocolate, condensed milk and hazelnut oil in a small pan over a low heat. Stir until smooth and add to the hazelnut paste in the food processor.

Add a pinch of salt and blend, then add the hot water and blend again until the mixture has a thick, spreadable consistency.

Spoon into a pretty sterilised jar and leave to cool. Cover with a lid and label when cold.

This will keep in the fridge for up to two weeks.

 PAUL O'GRADY'S CHRISTMAS ITV1, 9pm There's a sense of déjà vu about this seasonal special. Not that it's been on before, but if you saw Graham Norton's Friday night show a few weeks ago you'll know what to expect. Paul has made no secret of the fact he's a big fan of Emmerdale's Danny Miller, and that rising star will be looking back on another eventful year in the Dales soap.	6.00 Breakfast. 9.00 CBBC: Horrible Histories: Horrible Christmas. 9.30 The Slammer. UPSTAIRS DOWNSTAIRS

BBC1, 9pm

165 Eaton Place, Belgravia – an iconic address if ever there was one. But if you've never heard of it, you've clearly never seen an episode of the original run of Upstairs Downstairs. The house was at the centre of the classic drama, created by actresses Eileen Atkins and Jean Marsh, which ran for 68 episodes between 1971 and 1975. However, most of the old faces have gone, to be replaced by a new family headed by Ed Stoppard and Keeley Hawes as Sir Hallam and Lady Agnes Holland, who move into the house in 1936 following a diplomatic posting abroad.

Two Worlds Apart
In this charming memoir, Margaret Norman shares her recollections of a happy childhood in the 1920's, her school-days and her spirited efforts during the wartime years. In 1946 she married her pre war cycling friend and writes of their love of cycling and the great outdoors, their cycling camping holidays when they retired and happy times spent together with their children and grandchildren. Over the years intriguing pieces of information led Margaret to research her family tree with unexpected results.

CONDITIONS OF ACCEPTANCE FOR ALL ADVERTISEMENTS

Orders are accepted by the Publishers subject to the Standard Conditions agreed between the Newspaper Society and the Institute of Practitioners in Advertising, Save that:

- Advertisements are accepted on the conditions that (a) descriptions relating to goods are accurate and in no way contravene the provisions of the Trade Descriptions Act 1968, and the Fair Trading Act 1973, and (b) the copy complies with the British Code of Advertising Practice. Advertisements offering credit or hire facilities must conform to the Consumer Credit (Advertisements) Regulations 1980.
- 'Classified' Advertisements offering goods or service of a business, commercial or trade nature will, at the discretion of the Publishers, be deemed 'Trade Advertisements', and as such, must include their names in advertisements. A telephone number is an optional addition to these requirements and not an alternative.
- To comply with the Business Advertisements (Disclosure) Order 1977, Trade Advertisements must make it clear that they are selling goods in the course of business either by content, format, size or place of the advertisement or by including words such as 'trade', 'dealer', 'agent', 'wholesaler', 'VT' etc. in the advertisement.
- The Publishers accept no liability whatsoever for any loss or damage however caused arising out of:
(a) Any error, inaccuracy or omission in the printing or publishing of any advertisement;
(b) Any failure to publish an advertisement on the day / date or day / dates specified by the advertiser; or
(c) Any delay in forwarding or omission to forward replies to box numbers to the Advertiser.
- The Publishers will endeavour to publish advertisements on the day / date or day / dates specified by the Advertiser but insertion days / dates cannot be guaranteed.
- Where shrinkage of advertisement occurs for whatever reasons the advertisement will be charged to the nearest full centimetre. This will NOT apply to the full-page advertisements, which remain full pages even after shrinkage.
- The Publishers reserve the right to reject an advertisement or to vary it in any way they deem fit, at any time before publication, whether or not the advertisement has already been accepted for publication.
- Whilst every effort is made to minimise errors in advertisements, mistakes do sometimes occur. Advertisers or their agents should therefore check their advertisements and inform us of any errors immediately. Responsibility cannot be accepted for more than one incorrect insertion. Typographical or minor changes, which do not affect the value of the advertisement, do not qualify for republication or allowances.
- All gross advertising rates (except classified listings and semi-display) are subject to and include a 0.1% Advertising Standards Board of Finance surcharge, payable by the advertisers to help finance the self-regulatory control system administered by the Advertising Standards Authority.
- All rates quoted are subject to VAT at the rate currently in force at the time the advertisement appears.
- Should the rate for advertisements be altered the price for remaining insertions shall be revised accordingly or the publishers shall have the right to cancel the unexpired portion of the order.
- The placing of an advertisement order will be deemed an acceptance of these conditions.
- Account facilities are granted at the discretion of the Company.
- All accounts must be settled within the terms agreed by the Company and the Customer.
- (1) Should an advertiser be in breach of the agreed terms, the publisher shall be entitled to levy a 10% surcharge on the value of the whole order in respect of accounts with terms of less than 30 days, and any discounts or commissions that had been allowed will be retained.
- (2) Regular monthly accounts that are in breach of the agreed terms will pay an interest rate of 6% above the current bank of England base rate for each month that the account is overdue and discounts or commissions that had been allowed will be retained. Should Legal action be required the interest will be charged in accordance with the County Court Act 1984.
- Where an advertiser instructs / appoints an advertising agent to act on their behalf, the advertiser will remain jointly and severally liable for payment in respect for an advertisement should the appointed agent fail to pay. For the avoidance of doubt, the agent acts for the advertiser and not for the publisher with the agent being responsible for notifying the advertiser of this liability.
- All queries must be notified, preferably in writing to the accounts department of the publisher within 7 days of the invoice date.
- All digital services are maintained in partnership with the publishers' hosting service providers. Every effort is made to ensure the continuity of these services, but some occasional technical downtime beyond the publishers control may occur. The publisher and its associated companies shall be under no liability if the production and distribution of web services is delayed or prevented by any cause beyond the control of the publisher.
- The Publishers may provide voucher copies for published advertisements in electronic form only subject to certain criteria. Further information is available on request.
- The copyright of advertisements produced wholly or partially by the Publishers belong to the Publishers. Advertisers may not reproduce such advertisements without the Publishers' consent.

Box Numbers
Boxes are open for the receipt of bona fide answers and are not available for distribution of trade canvassing matter. Original testimonials, goods, cash, cash stamps or payments of any kind must not be enclosed. A box number and postal address are charged as part of the advertisement, i.e. Box No., centre address. There is no charge for forwarding replies.
Box numbers are not available for use in 'Trade' advertisements, other than Employment and Business Opportunities.

Holiday & Travel Category
All advertising must contain the name of the advertiser, phone number alone are not permitted.

Data Protection
The service you have requested may require us to carry out a credit search at a credit-referencing agency, which will record the fact that a search has been made. We may need to share your information with other lenders and credit reference agencies. However, we will only use the information from these searches to make credit-granting decisions and, if necessary, for fraud prevention or tracing debtors.
Data controller will use your information for administration and analysis. We may share your information with other Trade Group Newspaper companies or carefully selected third parties. We, or they, may send you details of other goods and services, which may be of interest to you. The information may be provided by letter, telephone or other reasonable means of communication. Calls may be recorded or monitored for training purposes.

Special conditions apply with regard to the advertising of adult services, which are outlined to all persons submitting such advertisements.

LAND Rover is to launch a special edition Freelander 2 model limited to 500 models for the UK.

Announced at the recent Bologna Motor Show, Freelander 2 SD4 Sport Limited Edition variant will come with a refreshed interior and exterior.

The car boasts a new black finish to the grille and the side vents, a new body styling pack and a choice of three exterior colours in either Fuji White, Santorini Black or an all-new Firenze Red.

A rear spoiler also features, together with 19-inch alloy wheels, body coloured door handles and mirror caps, and privacy glass. Front and rear parking sensors are also standard.

The interior is available in a choice of leather trim colours, while a Piano Black fascia finisher also features together with Ebony carpet mats with a contrast edge of either Ivory or Pimento.

The Freelander 2 SD4 Sport is powered by Land Rover's new 190 horsepower diesel engine and will be on sale in early 2011 with prices starting at £33,945.

■ Porsche has announced that it is to begin developing a new SUV model.

Buoyed by the success of the Cayenne — now the German premium sports manufacturer's most successful model worldwide — the company says the new vehicle will expand its presence in the SUV sector and will be designed to appeal to a younger audience.

To be developed under the title Cajun, further details have yet to be released but the new model is expected to be smaller than the Cayenne and to compete in the compact SUV sector alongside vehicles such as the BMW X3, Audi A5 and the forthcoming Range Rover Evoque.

■ Renault is simplifying complex decision-making, by streamlining its range for prospective car buyers.

The forward-thinking action, launched under the project, Simplification, will ensure that, from 4th January 2011, Renault customers will be able to understand its product line-up more readily, enabling them to select the car which best fits their needs quicker.

This unusual step is in response to today's needs from retail and business customers for value-for-money, simplicity, the standardisation of key equipment and the wider availability of new technologies.

As a result, core trim levels will be reduced to a maximum of three per model, excluding Renaultsport.

In total, the number of versions across the Renault car range falls from 227 to 159.

The three trim levels available, depending on model, will be Expression, Dynamique TomTom and GT Line TomTom. Limited editions will continue to be offered for peak sales periods and Gordini versions continue to be available as limited editions.

As an example, the best-selling Clio range currently features six core trim levels, depending on body style. The line-up from January will see a reduced model line-up of entry-level Expression, mid-range Dynamique TomTom and top-of-the-range GT Line TomTom, available across its three body styles of three and five-door hatchback and Sport Tourer.

The three trim levels will each offer something different to customers. Expression becomes the stylish, value-for-money option.

Moving up the range, Dynamique TomTom places the emphasis on impressive equipment specification (naturally including fully-integrated satellite navigation) and a sportier, image conscious appeal.

GT Line TomTom tops the bill, with even greater sportiness and class-leading equipment and looks.

Juke Range: CO2 134-175g/km – URBAN 46.3-27.7mpg/6.1-10.2L/100km – EXTRA URBAN 62.8-47.1mpg/4.5-6.0L/100km – COMBINED 55.4-37.2mpg/5.1-7.6L/100km.

Mazda3 joins range

LIKE the rest of Mazda's range of vehicles, the Mazda3 model is no 'also-ran'.

Mazda may not have the UK market share of traditional volume brands such as Ford or Vauxhall, but that doesn't mean it doesn't have the respect of car buyers. Pound for pound, cars like the Mazda3 hatchback can be comfortably be considered alongside well-established competitors.

A number of factors have played their part in the Japanese brand's rise from a relatively small importer of budget vehicles to a competitive sub-premium manufacturer in the UK, and chief among them is the company's focus on delivering what car buyers want.

This is reflected not only in the improved interior and exterior quality of its vehicles or the distinctive styling ethos that's given individual models greater identity as part of an instantly recognisable brand.

It's also reflected in the concise nature of the vehicle line-up itself

— one that concentrates on the key sectors; small hatchback, family hatchback, D-segment rep-mobile, people carrier, two-seater sports car and SUV crossover.

There's little flim-flam to be found, just well-crafted examples of the cars people want and need more than any other.

With this ethos in mind, Mazda has made some revisions to the popular Mazda3. Firstly, there's no more saloon for the UK market. The booted version of the Mazda3 was a handsome but rare sight, accounting for a mere six per cent of UK sales.

Secondly, the 1.6-litre diesel engine has been replaced with a new version offering greater economy and lower emissions. While there's nothing unusual about that, looking under the skin offers further insight into Mazda's focussed approach.

In an era of technological advances, Mazda's decision to simplify the inner workings of the Mazda3's smaller capacity diesel engine is a brave one. The outgoing 1.6-litre diesel unit was a twin-cam, 16-valve design; the kind that until not so long ago would have warranted extra badges to inform passers-by of its sophistication.

The new unit still offers turbocharged performance, but uses a single camshaft and eight-valves. Less glamorous it may be, but the reduced weight and frictional losses from the additional parts help the revised model to produce greater efficiency and lower CO2 emissions.

Regardless of the core layout, the new unit is hardly a step backwards. As with so many modern diesel engines, God is in the detail. Super-sharp piezo injectors have been put to use within the fuelling system, allowing greater control of the fuel delivery.

A new variable-geometry turbocharger is used, too, offering a better spread of power delivery across the rev range. Equally important for fuel consumption when the vehicle is used for shorter journeys, an exhaust gas recirculation cooler bypass system allows the engine to warm up faster when starting from cold.

The net result is a fuel consumption improvement of 2.2 per cent and CO2 emissions down 1.7 per cent, while power is up by six bhp.

Crucially, the torque figure has not only been raised by 22lb/ft but, thanks to the clever turbo, now offers peak performance between 1750 and 2700rpm. This makes the engine much more flexible and results in less gear changing using the new, lighter, six-speed manual transmission.

With less need to rev the engine to find performance refinement is improved and, once quickly warmed, engine noise is well contained.

Sharing a platform with the Ford Focus, a car widely considered the best in class in terms of handling, has always been a bonus for the Mazda3.

Although no sports car, an advanced suspension system offers a consistent feel at the wheel with body roll suitably tempered for a more aggressive approach. At the same time, the ride quality is good; not pillow soft but not unnecessarily firm either.

Heather goes the distance

HONITON based ultra distance runner Heather Foundling-Hawker has just returned home from France after competing in two races in four days to hopefully gain qualification for the Great Britain and England 24-hour ultra distance running squads. In order to have a chance to qualify for the England squad Heather had to complete a race of 112 miles and for the Great Britain squad she had to complete another 125 mile race. The distances had to be met by Friday, December 31st. Her first qualifying race took place at the end of November in Monaco and Heather finished third. Then two days later her second race was held in Evreux, Normandy, France. Heather completed this race in 23 hours and 58 minutes.

HONITON GOLF CLUB

Fun and frolics for all as green suffers the cold

MEMBERS ENJOY FESTIVE LUNCH

Monthly Stableford

MEMBERS called the course information phone line only to be told that the course was open for play after all.

No peace for the wicked then. Any dreams and expectations of extra hours lying in a warm bed with maybe the Sunday morning football to watch were shattered.

But everyone agreed in the end it had turned into a lovely day and the bracing air and rising sun had made the round quite picturesque.

Of course there was plenty of banter from the more philosophical members about when players might get out on the course again this Christmas.

Members were playing temporary greens but the winning scores justified the decision to play.

John Marchant was especially pleased that the course was playable. He took the Division One first prize with 38pts ahead of John Fleetwood 36pts and the seldom mentioned Jim Wallis 35pts.

Add to that the fact that he scored the only two of the day on the par three fourth to gain 25 new golf balls and he couldn't have had a better morning.

There were three new names at the top of the Division Two scoreboard with N Runciman first with a similar 38pts to John. J Barker and M

Godfrey took 2nd and 3rd respectively with 36pts each divided by count back.

Ladies Section

Due to the cold weather the lady members of Honiton Golf Club met in the clubhouse for a coffee followed by a putting competition with a difference whereby points were scored in many different ways and the most points scored were the winners.

Prizes were presented by the lady captain Elizabeth Ward.

Thursday was the ladies' annual Christmas lunch with lots of red outfits, flashing earrings and brooches, laughter and noise.

The lady vice captain Sue Ritchie said grace then members tucked into a delicious lunch being well looked after by Sue, Gill and Jan with Lyn and her staff pouring the Christmas cheer.

Senior Section

This Friday was the occasion of the annual Seniors' Christmas lunch, a festive event enjoyed not only by the seniors but also by invited guests.

In order to give the diners an appropriate appetite to match the superb catering two short Stableford competitions are traditionally held, one starting on the back tees and the other from the front.

With no sign of the ground thawing temporary greens are in play which provide a ready made excuse for poor putting. Christmas came early however, for Paul Ritchie who managed at least one good putt to secure the only two of the day and a sackful of 54 golf balls.

Club captain John Stabb made one of his usual relaxed and humorous speeches.

On a more serious note he thanked the seniors section for the continued support it gave to the club as a whole and the work of the seniors on the executive committee.

President Anne Davies said she had attended 13 of these events, probably more than many of the seniors present, but sadly this was her final year as she was stepping down from her role.

Seniors captain Bill Nicholls rounded off events by recounting his confusion after relaxing at home after the usual Friday competition by watching the start of the 2.30pm race at Kempton on television and next seeing the end of the 4.30pm at Exeter.

Oh, and the result of the golf, Santa's little helpers from the first were Bob Underwood, Rob Sexton, John Fleetwood, Peter Shepherd and Brian Morrison.

Rob Canterbury, Norman Runciman, Bill Nicholls, Norman Ede and Malcolm Matthews were the gift carriers on the back holes.

SEATON CRIB LEAGUE

THE first round of the Stan Berry Knock-out cup was played on Wednesday, December 1st.

This turns the game of crib on its head and the aim of the game is to lose.

This gets very confusing, particularly when you try to tell someone how well you do in the matches.

Each couple plays three legs each time, and it is the first team to lose 14 legs who wins.

Results:
PJ's Club 13, Kingfisher 14,

Royal Clare 12, Kings Arms 15, Vaults Bar 13, Golden Hind 14, Eyre Court, Bye

Next week the second round will take place against:

Kings Arms v Eyre Court

CHARD RUGBY

SOMERSET PREMIER LEAGUE

Avon 12pts
Chard 12pts

CHARD coach Steve Broome and his team were left very disappointed and frustrated when they were only able to share the spoils at Bath on Saturday.

Chard had gone into the game having to again make late changes because of injury but they dominated the early stages of the game and launched several powerful drives towards the home line.

Avon's smaller pack however were no pushover and they managed to thwart the Chard attacks until eventually hooker Lee Carter wriggled over the line for the opening try of the game.

David Lane converted.

Chard were now clearly on top and should have scored again but a rather wild final pass went astray and Avon centre Ben Crane took advantage and picked up the loose ball and then sprinted the length of the field to score an equalising try which Des Bowden converted from wide out. If this was not bad enough Chard then had two 'tries' disallowed when on each occasion an unsighted referee said he wasn't sure if the ball had been grounded.

The scores remained equal at the break.

In the second half the home side took the lead when flanker Craig

Rees took a pass from Bowden to score a second try which this time was not converted.

Chard's frustrations grew but Ben Stead who was playing his first senior game of the season following a groin injury showed a real touch of class to bring the scores level with an excellent try five minutes from the end of time.

Lane narrowly missed the touchline conversion and in the final minute a long range penalty the ball hit the upright and bounced back into play.

Avon are certainly one of the better sides in the league but Chard really felt they should have won this game.

Although Chard have only lost once this season they are now quite a few points behind the leaders, Hornets, who have amassed a host of bonus points as well as remaining unbeaten with one draw the only slight blemish on their record.

Chard now find themselves only three points ahead of Minehead and although — injuries and availability permitting — Chard would expect to win most of their games in the second half of the season, the return games against Hornets and Minehead will have a huge bearing on whether Chard can finish in the top two.

Next Saturday the 1st XV are at home to St Bernadettes. Kick off 2.30pm.

The seconds are away at Wiveliscombe and the thirds are at home to Wyvern.

Life gets hairy as footy team does 'Movember'

SQUAD RAISES £100 FOR MEN'S CANCER CAUSE

THINGS became hairy last month when a group of brave local footballers took part in a charity event raising over £100.

Some of Farway United Football Club players took part in Movember — an international charity event in aid of men's health.

Movember brings the words 'moustache' and 'November' together to challenge males to change their appearance and the face of men's health by growing a moustache for a month.

The participants started on November 1st clean shaven and then grew a moustache for the entire month, which becomes the ribbon for men's health, the means by which awareness and funds are raised for cancers that affect men.

The idea at Farway was born in the Perry Street League team's club changing rooms after a match earlier this year and most of the team took part — some of whom are pictured.

Instigator and first team member Dave Summers said: "The point is to raise awareness for men's health and funds raised in the UK go to The Prostate Cancer Charity (TPCC), the UK's leading prostate cancer charity."

"We started clean shaven on November 1st then the idea was to cultivate some dashing moustaches for 30 days."

"The end came on Saturday, December 4th when the club went on a night out in Sidmouth and we could finally — to the relief of Wags — shave them off. We've raised just over a hundred pounds."

The Movember moustache initiative has grown year-on-year since it was launched in 2003 in Australia, expanding to the UK, US, Canada, New Zealand, Ireland, Spain, South Africa, The Netherlands and Finland.

HONITON HORNETS HOCKEY CLUB

Honiton Hornets Hockey Club 3
Exeter Culm Vale Hornets 1

FOR this final and 'friendly' match of the first half of the season at Cullompton, and before the Christmas break, both sides played with 10 players — ECVH kindly lent a player to Honiton, so that both sides could be evenly matched.

Play was fiercely contested from the opening whistle but it was the visitors who opened the scoring when captain Sophie George managed to evade the highly watchful eyes and very skilled pads of the ECVH goalkeeper and slot the ball to the backboard.

Shortly after, a young home team player succeeded similarly when she found a little opening to the side of the Honiton keeper. That was the score as the half-time whistle blew.

At the restart, both sides went into attack mode but the visitors were the ones who managed to capitalise on two occasions when in the home side's circle.

In both cases Dawn Mayo positioned herself perfectly to sweep the ball in the first instance behind the keeper and, in the second, almost over her. This put Honiton into a commanding position which the home side could not counter.

An excellent game played in good spirits by both sides — and for Honiton a great way to go into the Christmas break.

AXE VALLEY RUNNERS

Axe runners awards night

THE annual Axe Valley Runners (AVR) dinner and awards were held at the Dolphin Hotel in Beer on Friday, December 10th.

Chairman Garry Perratt presented the awards, first to the handicap winners, then the Founder's Trophy that went to Jon and Gill Day for their organisational skills during the year.

The Derby and County AC shield for the most improved runner was won by Gavin Warren.

Alex Todd was voted the best new member, while Diane Newton won the Unfortunate Sole award for losing both trainers, but still finishing the Poltimore Pootle race.

The President's Shield went to Geoff Woodward and Steve Reynolds for running five marathons in five days for a forces charity. The team award went to the Paris Marathon gang, a record number of 16 AVR finishers at any marathon.

The Female Runner of the year was Eleanor Wood and Alex Todd added to his trophies by winning the Male Runner of the year.

The Club Person(s) were Paul Johns and Phil Bayliss for their dedicated work with the junior section.

Chris Irving won the Chairman's Shield and the club London Marathon places were won by Tim Sibley and Gill Day.

After the awards Garry was presented with honorary membership of AVR for all of his work as chairman and before.

Then followed a number of dubious alternative awards presented by Dave Mutter and finally a raffle by Paul Morgan for Children In Need that raised over £130.

RUNNING

THREE Axe Valley Runners were among a group of seven hardy souls that took part in a 20-mile circuit on Dartmoor on Saturday, December 11th.

Garry Perratt, Phil Bayliss and Alex

Todd were joined by Charmouth's Gordon Hathway, Tiverton Harrier Chris Fill and Maiden Newton Runners Lin and Martin Lascelles.

The race left Sticklepath and took a route through Belstone, Yes Tor and High Willhays before making its way to Okement Hill, Hangingstone Hill and Steeperton Tor.

Hound Tor and Cosdon Hill were the last two peaks before the runners descended back to Sticklepath.

AXMOUTH UTD

WITH Exmouth losing at Hatherleigh, Axmouth missed a great opportunity to secure top spot in Division 6 losing 2-1 away to Awliscombe.

In a very tight game of few chances it was clear from the start that the odd goal would probably settle the match. A scrappy first half in which both sides struggled to create many clear openings was evenly contested but remained goal less at the break.

The second half was much the same and when the visitors were awarded a free kick just outside the area 15 minutes in, Jamie Hughes took the opportunity to open the scoring with a fine free kick which wrong footed the keeper.

Having worked so hard to get the lead it seemed the one goal might be enough but Axmouth needed to hold out for a few minutes and defend the lead. However, Awliscombe hit straight back within five minutes after good work down the right and the cross was met with a neat finish to level and five minutes later a failed clearance gave them the chance to take the lead.

The away side tried hard to get the equaliser forcing a number of corners but just couldn't break down a well organised defence and Awliscombe saw the game out to secure all three points.

It was a disappointing result for Axmouth who never really got going with the same fluency of recent matches and came up against a solid home side, Jamie Hughes was the Axmouth man of the match and they will need an improved display at home against Bampton this coming weekend to maintain their good position in the fight for honours.

SEATON UNDER-11

Seaton A 4
Feniton 0

SEATON A U11 were out to show top of the table Feniton a great game of football and did this spectacularly.

The action was fast and the goals glorious.

Thomas Bush was brilliant in defence and no player could get past him.

Goal scorers were Oliver Browne 2, Sam Sparkes 1 and Scott Pavey 1.

Goalkeeper Ricky Littley was awesome and saved a late penalty which showed how well he copes even under extreme pressure.

Lewis Pearson was excellent in midfield.

Overall, the whole squad were excellent but man of the match went to Ricky Littley.

Next Sunday Seaton will be at home to Lyme Regis at 10.30am.

OFFWELL RANGERS

Offwell Rangers 3
South Zeal 2

WITH a week off due to the weather Offwell were looking forward to this game in the Devon and Exeter League.

A win for Offwell would be a great response to previous weeks and that is what they got.

The game started sloppily by Offwell as they conceded a goal within the first 15 minutes, until Jordan Stickland reacted quickly in the box to equalise for Offwell.

Five minutes after, South Zeal scored to make the game 2-1, which woke Offwell up and another cool finish from Stickland made it 2-2.

The second half started off great for Offwell as Lewis Couch placed his free kick perfectly into the corner making Offwell 3-2 up — the score the game finished on.

PERRY STREET LEAGUE ROUND-UP AND CUP MATCH NEWS

A SPECTACULAR THOMPSON KICK WINS CUP PLACE

By KEVIN FAHEY

sport.pulmans@tindlenews.co.uk

A SPECTACULAR over-head kick from Rob Thompson clinched Lyme Regis a place in the semi-finals of the Dorset County Intermediate Cup.

The Perry Street League Premier Division side beat Alderholt 1-0 with Thompson's strike on the hour breaking the deadlock in a fiercely contested game.

"Rob scores four or five goals a season and they are all screamers, he doesn't do easy tap-ins," said manager Robin Townsend. "It was a great goal to win any game."

Fellow Premier Division side Beaminster face a replay next weekend after sharing an eight-goal thriller at Ferndown. Manager Shaun Annetts was left frustrated as his team threw away the lead four times, including conceding an injury time equaliser to force extra time.

"It was end-to-end stuff and a very good game," said Annetts.

Jamie McClements gave Beaminster a first half lead and Chris Rowsell, Murray Legg and Dean Newman struck in the second half.

After two postponements in the Coronation Cup Perry Street finally booked their spot in the final against Lyme Regis on Monday December 27th with a 4-0 victory over Ilminster Town Reserves.

Ben Stevens struck twice with further strikes from Danny Wiseman and Jay Bailey to give the struggling Premier Division side a big lift.

"We know we are not going to be one of the top sides in the league this season so to reach a cup final is a real bonus," said manager Dave Ellis.

Merriott Rovers shook off their rustiness to secure top spot in the Premier Division with a 3-2 win against Combe St Nicholas.

"We have only had two games in the last six weeks and we definitely looked very rusty early on," said manager Martin Case. "We made hard work of the win but I'll settle for the points."

Goals from Hayden Smith and Lee Martin left the match all-square at half-time with Pete Symes grabbing the winner after the break. Newcomer Jason Crabb was outstanding in central defence.

Crewkerne Town climbed to second in Division One behind Winsham after a 3-0 win at Lyme Regis Reserves with goals from Paul Gold, Jamie Spurdle and Barry Hayne while Ryan Tett made an excellent first team debut.

Chard United climbed to third place in Division Three with a 2-1 win at Lyme Regis Bantams with goals from Tom Newport and a superb lob from Ricky Anderson.

Millwey Rise have been handed a surprise place against Crewkerne Town in the final of the Perry Street Division One Cup on January 3rd after Lyme Regis Town Reserves were disqualified from the competition.

League officials declared that Lyme played four ineligible players in their 3-2 semi final win over Millwey Rise and while Lyme protested against the decision, arguing that there was ambiguity in the rules, the league upheld the ruling.

"It is disappointing but we will take it on the chin and wish good luck to Millwey," said manager Rob Thorn.

SOUTH WEST PENINSULA — AXMINSTER TOWN FC

Axminster Town 0
Appledore 3

AXMINSTER boss James Bennett refused to be down-hearted after this latest defeat against league leaders Appledore claiming that there were clear signs of improvement in his team.

"I thought we did really well against a top side and the scoreline flattered them," said Bennett.

"It was one of our best performances of the season and the lads played really well."

Had Axminster, who are still bottom of the league with just three points, taken their chances the outcome might have been different. Brothers Terry and Richie Emmett both went close, Graham White squandered a one-on-one chance with the Appledore goalkeeper and Joel Seaward also had a good chance to score.

"Things are definitely looking up," added Bennett.

SOUTH WEST PENINSULA — OTTERY ST MARY FOOTBALL CLUB

Ottery St Mary 0
University of Exeter 4

THE Otters' wretched spell continued with this heavy defeat at Washbrook Meadow.

Dane Bunney's side were 3-0 down in the first 45 minutes with students' left back Adam Rogers scoring twice and Ben Nash adding the third.

Sam Taylor added the fourth after the break to leave the Otters looking worryingly at the bottom of the table.

DEVON & EXETER LEAGUE ROUND-UP

NEW leaders Seaton Town moved three points clear after their 2-1 win against Topsham Town in a cracking game.

Alex Wheatley and Ollie Highett were the Seaton scorers, but the sad news is that key player Ben Ede was taken to hospital with a possible broken leg. Ryan Pym had the Topsham goal.

Clyst Valley had to work hard to better Beer Albion 2-1 but notched the winner ten minutes from time. Luke Todd and Elliot Weeks scored for Clyst after the fishermen had taken the lead.

Witheridge also won 4-1 at Heavitree Social Utd, but the clash between Halwill and Honiton Town was abandoned after 65 minutes with Halwill leading 3-1.

Lawrence Holt and Josh Madden both scored twice for the University in their 8-1 win at home to Axminster Town.

King scores first senior football hat-trick in 7-1 win for Farway

By KEVIN FAHEY

Farway United 7
East Budleigh 1

A SUPERB Bradley King hat-trick was the highlight of Farway United's success as they swept into the semi-finals of the Devon Intermediate Cup.

East Budleigh had no answer to livewire Bradley, who scored twice in the opening 45 minutes with James Salter chipping in with the other as Perry Street League Premier Division side Farway raced into a 3-0 lead and then topped his man-of-the-match performance with a third after the break.

"Bradley had a fantastic game," said manager Andy Bailey. "He is only 18 and that is his first hat-trick in senior football but it wasn't just his goals, his overall performance was excellent as well."

King, who lives in Yarcombe, gave the host side a good start by scoring in the 20th minute and while East Budleigh came back the game effectively ended just before half-time.

"We suddenly scored twice in two minutes right before half-time and to be honest that scoreline flattered us," admitted Bailey.

The second half certainly didn't as Farway carried on where they had finished the first 45 minutes. Ernie Stopps quickly made it 4-0 and while East Budleigh then grabbed a goal back it proved to be a mere consolation as further goals from King, Dave Dare and Matt Williams wrapped up a convincing victory and set up a semi-final showdown against Exmouth Amateurs early in the new year.

"With home advantage we will fancy our chances against Exmouth," added Bailey.

"We have traditionally done quite well in cup competitions and we have reached the final of the area cup twice and won it and got to the final of the county cup once but lost. Hopefully we can get to another final."
